

one company to operate all the lines. The petition continues as follows:

Changed Conditions.
"At the time of the granting of the several franchises, rights and privileges hereinbefore mentioned by the city of Richmond and the county of Henrico, the conditions existing in the territories served by these railways were entirely different from those existing at the present time, with the result that the rights of the company and the public are in a state of some confusion and many of the provisions of these ordinances and franchises, both within the old corporate limits of the city and the territory formerly a part of Henrico county, are applicable to the existing conditions."

"The increase in population in some sections of the city within the past ten years and the changes in lines of travel render desirable the readjustment of some of the franchises of the company, and in some sections the construction of new tracks, in order to meet the growing demands of the public service."

"Some of the conditions imposed upon the company by the existing franchises have become obsolete or a character as greatly to embarrass the development of the properties, without corresponding benefit to the community, and it is believed that these conditions can be modified to the benefit of both the company and the public to be served."

Propose Free Viaduct.
"The management of these properties has been considering for several years past the question of the construction of a suitable viaduct on Broad Street to connect the east and west portions of the city, over which certain cars of this company now operate, and this company now desires, in connection with the question of modifications of the franchises aforesaid, to submit to the city of Richmond suggestions and plans for the construction of such a viaduct, at the cost of this company, to be, when completed, the property of the city and a free highway to the public."

"It is obvious that the consideration and determination of the various complicated questions involved in the modifications of the several franchises aforesaid and the plans or suggestions for the construction of such a viaduct as has been indicated will necessarily require a great deal of detail discussion between the representatives of the city and of this company. It is the desire of this company to present to the city fully the facts upon which its suggestions bearing upon the matters aforesaid will be based, and, before finally formulating those suggestions, to endeavor as far as possible to ascertain the wishes and requirements of the various sections of the city which may be affected."

Ask Committee of Conference.
"To the end, therefore, that these matters may receive careful consideration at the hands of the city's representatives, your petitioner prays that this petition may be referred to some appropriate committee, with authority to consider all suggestions submitted to said committee and to report the result of its deliberations by ordinance resolution or otherwise, as may seem best to such committee."

COUNCIL ADOPTS BATTLE ABBEY SITE

The city, which will provide for a reduction in the membership of the City Council, to one from each ward in the Board of Aldermen, and two in the Common Council; providing for a definite compensation for the members of the Council, which shall be fixed and determined by the Council in its meetings; and the transaction of business, and that members serving in either branch be required to qualify and give bond for faithful discharge of their duties."

Mr. Richards asked that this resolution be referred to the Committee on Ordinances, Charter and Reform, but Mr. Pollock moved that it go to the Special Committee on Changes in the Form of Government, which was adopted over the protests of Mr. Richards and of Chairman Cutchins. The committee was then organized and ready to report and that its report was on the table in the Council.

Mr. Pollard offered a resolution providing for the widening and improvement of the Rosemeath Road, which went to the Street Committee, and a resolution appropriating $4500 for the widening of the Rosemeath Road, and sewer connections at the Virginia State Fair Grounds, which went to the Committee on Finance.

Would Abolish Office.

Mr. Lynch wanted to know what had become of his resolution referred to the Finance Committee four months ago providing for the abolition of the office of Chief Tax Collector. Unless prompt action were taken, he said, it would be impossible to bring the matter before this Legislature. He charged that the Finance Committee was dodging the question.

Under suspension of the rules, Mr. Hobson secured an appropriation of $401.75, the amount realized from the sale of the old Valley School Building, to be used by the Street Cleaning Department to grade the lot about the new incinerator. Mr. Green called for the table the resolution appropriating $3,050 for grading and graveling Tilden Street, provided all the streets in Lee Park are dedicated to the city, and it was adopted after adding an amendment relieving the city from damages by reason of the grades. The proposition was then taken up for debate, being warmly seconded by Messrs. Lynch, Pollock, Pollard, and others, and opposed by Messrs. Ferguson, Davis and Garber.

Mr. Lynch thought the city should accept every such offer to grade and gravel streets where they are donated, and the city relieved from damages, leaving unimproved for the present those streets where abutting owners

Meet Municipal Conference.

After some opposition, Mr. Cutchins secured adoption of a resolution for the appointment of a special joint committee, consisting of the presidents of the two branches and one Alderman and two Councilmen, to meet a conference of municipal and commercial bodies of Virginia cities to be held in Richmond in January, to consider changes in State laws affecting cities, provided that such invitation be extended with the cities to adopt or reject individually.

An appropriation of $12,798 was made for redemption of bonds due January 1, 1910, and what is in the sinking fund, and at that time, Mr. Rogers called up and secured the adoption of a resolution authorizing the Committee on Light to contract for 1,000 Boulevard gas lamps with the American Street Lighting Company at $12.50 each, to replace the present flat-flame gas lamps. The proposition has been before the Council for many months, the objection being raised that it authorized a contract with a company making a patented light with out securing proposals from other lamp-makers. Mr. Fuller thought the use of improved gas lamps was unnecessary. More lights was what is needed, he argued, predicting that electric lights would soon replace the gas lamps, and that it was an unnecessary expense.

Without taking up any of the committee reports, the Council adjourned to meet Thursday night at 8 o'clock.

ONLY ONE CHANCE TO ESCAPE PRISON

Morse Will Try to Get New Trial Before Circuit Court.

WASHINGTON, D. C., December 6.—The Supreme Court of the United States to-day denied the petition of Charles W. Morse, the New York banker, for a writ of certiorari. The result of the decision is to leave in effect against Morse the sentence of fifteen years' imprisonment.

All the hope apparently left Charles W. Morse for escaping the serving of a fifteen years' sentence in the Federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., is that a notice of motion for a new trial, filed to-day with the United States Circuit Court, the court of conviction, eventually will lead to his having another day in court. Martin W. Littleton, counsel for Morse, appeared before the court immediately upon receipt of the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States denying Morse's application for a writ of certiorari, and gave notice of the proposed motion.

Under the forty-day stay of sentence previously granted, ten days remain in which counsel may seek a final adjudication of the case in pursuance of the notice of motion for a new trial filed to-day. Should the United States Circuit Court decide against him in this last instance, service of the sentence will begin on or before December 16. In the meantime Morse remains in the Tombs.

Littleton to-day obtained an amendment to the mandate of the Circuit Court of Appeals here permitting the Circuit Court to entertain the motion by Morse for a new trial filed to-day, on the ground that the jurors who convicted him were not properly guarded during the trial, and that some of them indulged to excess in intoxicants.

Charles W. Morse was sentenced on November 5, 1908, to a term of fifteen years in the Federal prison at Atlanta, for misappropriation of the funds of the National Bank of New York.

Late to-day Deputy Marshal Kumbler visited Morse at the Tombs and served him with preliminary papers in a new suit, brought in the United States Circuit Court by J. Kearney Rice, as trustee in bankruptcy, for the Consolidated Arizona Smelting Company.

EXCEPTIONS TAKEN TO SMITH'S REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, La., December 6.—A statement was issued to-night by President W. B. Thompson, of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange, taking exception to certain statements published to-day from Washington in connection with the publication of the report of the Commissioner of Corporations, Knox Smith. It is declared that the report does not condemn future trading as such, nor as it is conducted on the New Orleans Cotton Exchange. That the New York system of "fixed differences" is condemned, and that the New Orleans system of "commercial differences" is not condemned.

One of the principal allegations of the report is that the New Orleans Cotton Exchange is a "fixed differences" system, and that the New Orleans system of "commercial differences" is not condemned.

It is a well-known fact to the cotton trade of the entire world that Commissioner Knox Smith and some of his ablest assistants have been personally with the members and officials of this exchange, and we, after full discussion, accepted fully and without hesitation the suggestions and recommendations of Commissioner Smith. It is equally well known that the rules and regulations of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange now represent the views of Commissioner Smith as to how the future contract business should be conducted.

Attell Has Hard Fight.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., December 6.—Abe Attell, champion featherweight of the world, was forced to exert himself to the limit to secure a decision over Charlie McCoy, Chicago, in an eight-round contest before the Phoenix Athletic Club here to-night. The decision was unpopular.

VASSAR STUDENT ENDS HER OWN LIFE

Body Found, After Long Search, in Cistern at Her Home.

FISHKILL, LINDEN, N. Y., December 6.—The body of Margaret Doherty, the Vassar student who disappeared yesterday, was found late to-day in the cistern of her father's home at Fishkill.

Miss Doherty, who was the daughter of the Rev. William H. Doherty, wandered away from the care of her friends yesterday morning. It was known that she had been forced to abandon her studies at Vassar because of mental strain, due to overwork, and from the moment her absence was noted there was the greatest anxiety for her safety.

The all-night and day search came to a sad end when a railroad detective found the lifeless body of the girl in six feet of water at the bottom of the cistern. Apparent suicide was carefully planned.

The cover of the cistern was in position. It seems that she raised it on edge, allowing it to fall back into place over her, as she jumped to death below. There were no evidences of foul play.

Miss Doherty was ambitious to make her first year at Vassar a creditable one. She knew that her father had abandoned a rich parish in New Jersey to accept his small charge at Fishkill, and she felt that she ought to make the most of her opportunity.

Her ambition, however, outran her strength, and three weeks ago she broke down. The thought that her indisposition had nullified her father's sacrifices for her so preyed on her mind that she felt that she might attempt suicide, and tried to keep close watch on her.

Sunday morning, when her father was at church, furnished the chance she sought. Slipping from the house and down the front steps, she made her way to the cistern, and there, in the darkness, she ended her life.

The disheartened parents were inconsolable to-night when the sad news was broken to them.

AVIATOR FALLS TO AWFUL DEATH

His Fate Due to Recklessness and Impatience for Flight.

NICE, FRANCE, December 6.—Antonio Fernandez, an aviator, met death to-day while flying for the first time in an airplane of his own invention at the new aerodrome, near the mouth of the Var.

The accident appears to have been due mainly to the inexperience and recklessness of the aviator, who, impatient at the delay and not heeding the suggestions of his mechanic, patched up a defective motor, and, chiding by himself with common sense, the airplane sailed off gracefully, amid the cheers of the spectators, and the inventor's hopes seemed to be fulfilled.

After flying 200 meters and gradually rising to a height of 100 meters, the machine tipped over in the twinkling of an eye.

Fernandez was hurled headlong to the ground, striking with terrific force, with the wreck of his airplane on top of him.

Willing hands lifted the mass of debris, and the aviator was found crushed beneath the motor, his head having been driven into the soft earth below.

The victim took up aviation quite recently, devoting all of his time to it. He was convinced that his machine, which resembled both the Wright and the Curtiss machines, was absolutely superior to either.

STRIKERS MAY FIRE ON STATE TROOPS

CHARLESTON, W. VA., December 6.—In a telegram to Governor Glasscock, Governor Harmon, of Ohio, to-night states that he has been informed that some of the steel mill strikers and strike sympathizers at Bridgeport, O., have planned to congregate on upper Wheeling Island, on the West Virginia side of the Ohio River, and open fire on the Ohio militia now stationed at Bridgeport.

General Glasscock took up the report with Sheriff William C. Brown, of Cleveland, who started an investigation. The commanding officers of the First and Second Infantry, West Virginia National Guard, were ordered to be ready to move on short notice.

DIED FROM STRANGULATION.

SPARTANBURG, S. C., December 6.—With the band of his jacket collar caught in a small hook in the door, nine-year-old William Pendleton this afternoon was found dead from strangulation in the bathroom of his home here. It is supposed that the boy climbed on a chair to reach a towel and fell off, the collar of his jacket catching on the hook.

The boy was the son of Rev. W. H. Pendleton, who came here from Wytheville, W. Va., where he was pastor of the Episcopal Church of the Advent.

GENERAL BROWN DEAD

Northern Commander Dies in Southwest Virginia Home.

Major-General Julius A. Brown, who died Sunday night at his home at Wytheville, Va., was perhaps the only Federal general officer living in the South. He was born in Ohio, and served in the Northern army at the beginning of the Civil War as an aide. He rose through all the gradations of the volunteer service, being commissioned successively a colonel, brigadier-general and major-general. At the conclusion of the war he returned to civil pursuits and accumulated considerable property.

About fifteen years ago General Brown married Mrs. Nannie Stuart Brown, of Wytheville, and moved to that town. For some years he was in the drug business there. He was a man of high ideals and of strong prejudices.

Funeral of Father McGurk.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
LYNCHBURG, Va., December 6.—The funeral of the Rev. James J. McGurk, pastor of the Holy Cross Catholic Church, took place this morning from the church of which he had been pastor so many years. The services were of a deeply solemn and impressive nature, in which thirty or more priests, who had come from all parts of the State for the purpose, participated.

The service began at 9:30 o'clock with the chanting of the office for the dead by the assembled priests, who were under the leadership of the Rev. Charles E. Donahoe, of Portsmouth.

At 10 o'clock the solemn pontifical requiem mass began, with the Rt. Rev. Bishop A. Van De Vyver, of Richmond, as the celebrant. He was assisted by the Rev. J. J. Bowler, vicar-general of the diocese; Deacons of Honor, Rev. Fred E. Lacey, of Port Myers; Father T. J. Wilson, of Fort Monroe; Deacon of the Mass, Rev. J. E. Collin, of Harper's Ferry, W. Va.; Subdeacon, Rev. Fred E. Lacey, of Port Myers; and Cereemonies, Rev. J. Joseph Magri, D. of Richmond.

The singing was under the direction of Rev. Thomas A. Rankin, of Oak Ridge.

The blessing of the body was performed by the bishop, who was assisted by the various officers, who took part in the mass, the sorrowful psalm over the body being read by the bishop.

The pontifical mass, such as was celebrated this morning, is one of the most imposing ceremonies in the ritual of the Catholic Church. The six clergymen who took active part were robed in black vestments, adding to the solemnity of the occasion.

The concourse of people was so great that all could not gain admittance to the church, many remaining on the sidewalk and in the street.

Father Wilson, a life-long friend, delivered the eulogy.

The funeral took place in Holy Cross Cemetery, which was founded by Father Collins, who was assisted by Father Merritt and Lacey.

The honorary pall-bearers were: Thomas Collins, Congressman Carter W. Collins, Dr. John H. Doherty, H. T. Nicholas, William McLaughlin, Frank T. McCarron and Thomas Casey.

The active pall-bearers were: J. O'Brien, Sr., James M. McLaughlin, M. E. Doyle, Thomas Sillan, J. L. Crist, John H. Doherty, James McIntyre and John Campbell.
